To Whom it May Concern:

This is an unqualified endorsement of Victoria's Tender Care owned by Victoria Evans. My association with Victoria's Tender Care (henceforth referred to as VTC) began with VTC caring for an elderly lady in my church. Because of health problems, it was necessary for this lady to sell her home and move to an assisted living facility. VTC planned and organized the sale of the home and the move to the assisted living facility. The move was done in an entirely professional manner. In addition to the move, much of the ladies furniture and other items had to be stored. They also handled and made provision for storage of those items. VTC provided the lady with round the clock care - all done with professional quality help.

After a time it was necessary to move the lady to another facility. VTC handled that move quickly and carefully, even providing transportation to doctors on occasion.

After the ladies death, the disposition of many of her possessions, was also handled by VTC. All in all, VTC proved to be responsible, dependable and entirely professional in its care for this lady. I could heartily endorse and recommend VTC.
